"InherentQuality.Com Upgrade (July 1-4, 2006)" by Ron on July 1, 2006, 1:15 pm, in category
INHERENT QUALITY

FYI: We are implementing an upgrade during the period of July 1-4, 2006. Changes being introduced are more than cosmetic as particular items will begin to be available only upon request (e.g. our manuscript). Our Thanks to all positive supporters to this juncture; in particular at this time we extend a sincere Thank You to a new website friend (we call Barney).

Please send email to info@inherentquality.com to request a copy of our manuscript, Inherent Quality, 101 v2.5 (aka IQ10125).

Please note we would appreciate a research donation for providing you with our manuscript and may in time officially bill those requesting copy of the manuscript and/or potential future editions. Billing charges may therefore also subsequently apply to other future deliverables stored on InherentQuality.Com. Please obtain copies of our deliverables directly from us and please support our research/website efforts with donations and/or sponsorships. We also welcome investors. Thank you kindly in advance.

Have a nice day

Kindest Regards,

Ron Richard
